

Transcript for the Electronic Proving Gound video:

The Electronic Proving Ground is the digital tester in support of Army After Next, with field offices located at Ft. Lewis, Washington and Ft. Hood, Texas. The EPG uses the latest in computer based simulation and simulation based test capabilities. The EPG ensures that the Army's information age systems are compatible and interpretable across the spectrum of today's and tomorrow's high tech battlefield.